You shall keep my commandments
and observe them: I am the Lord.

The Pastor's Corner

The Gospel lesson from Luke 17:1-10 used on October 2, which was Worldwide Communion Sunday, is as direct as any Scripture about the obligations and blessings of Christian living. We might often see obligations and blessings as separable—Jesus teaches they come together. The connection is made when we understand that it is God who defines our relationship with Him, our Father in heaven. We understand this not only from Jesus' teaching but also from Jesus' own relationship with His Father. Jesus perfectly understood his role as Son, and so his every response as a loving son was to live according to God's will. Jesus shows us how relationship with God is serving Him, which is itself the greatest reward.

A blessing/reward at Fairview this time of year is how congregational life comes back up to full speed with opportunities for faithful worship and service, fellowship, and yes food! The Gospel lesson helps us to know that our lives as blessed when we offer ourselves to God's love, grace, and mercy. Our self-offering must be—as Jesus showed—sacrificial with the servant's heart. To the extent we serve God as a community, making a free offering of ourselves to God rather than to the world, then our relationship with God is active and spiritually nourishing. The Church many chances for us to be together leads to spiritually active Christian living. We can better experience a mutually loving relationship with God by taking many opportunities to be with God who is always present and available to us through our relationship with Jesus.

We are God's children and can accept that God loves us when we give ourselves to His care and nurture. Similar to the excitement of young children experiencing life, we too can experience relationship with God with true joy and happiness. How might God create excitement, joy, and happiness in our relationship with Him? By our being present with Him. We are present with God in worship and receive God in Christ Jesus as our Lord offers the Church the gift of real presence from the Lord's Table. We are present with God when we study the Holy Scriptures together with the Holy Spirit's inspiration to the whole group. We are present with God when we set aside time to be Jesus' disciples and follow Jesus wherever and whenever he calls us. When we follow Jesus, we are given spiritual gifts by the Holy Spirit which Jesus promised. We are present with God when we use our resources for the common good, ministry and mission of the Church. We are present with God in Christ when we answer the call for mission outreach into the world. This enables us to share Jesus' love as God's Good News of His love, grace and mercy for the world.

Like all relationships of love, being present with our beloved increases capacity for wonder and fulfillment. God desires to love all his children and to bring all people to know and experience the real presence of Jesus in their lives. At Fairview we are living out our faithful response to God. May God bless us to gain a new vision of God's Biggest Dream, for all to know his love and purpose as His beloved children.

Christian Education News... The combined adult Sunday school class will be finishing up the "Be Rich" Ephesians study by Dr. Warren Wiersbe in early September. There have been insightful discussions, sharing of faith and valuable contributions from our members. There has been great interest in going back to the Union Gospel Press quarterlies. I ordered them and they've arrived. We will now begin the Fall Quarter beginning in September. The focus is "Learning to Honor God," with each Sunday lesson on the topic of "obedience" for us as Christians...Please let me know if you feel led to be in the teaching rotation, as we have an urgent need for more adult Sunday school teachers. Serving with you, with gratitude, Bill Shields
